

THE SOUTH KENTUCKIAN.

W. M. TOWNES, Editor.
HOPKINSVILLE, APR. 29 1879.

The Army bill passed the Senate by 41 to 30.

We are pleased to note the stringent laws being enacted in different States to squelch the dangerous tramp element.

They say "Grant is crazy" (Lexington Transcript). They need to say he was drunk. (Evansville Journal (2pp)).

Yes exactly. A kind of hyphenated crazy-drunk.

Day after to-morrow the Democratic Convention meets in Louisville. All good democrats are delegates from this county. Remember this and go ahead.

It has been suggested that at the next presidential election each voter shall pay to the government five cents, the proceeds to be devoted to the completing of the Washington monument.

There are those in the North who would prefer to anchor forever on an iceberg rather than breathe the Zephyrus air of a "rebellious" South. Prejudice is the executioner of reason.

Cotton has advanced one and a half cents in the past ninety days and cotton goods generally have gone up about three quarters of a cent. This is a favorable sign of better times, as cotton is one of the most important staples of the United States.

Major Andree, the British spy, in the army of General Hatchcock in Washet is to have a monument. "The good that men do dies with them," the evil is honored with a monument of marble.

"May's humanity to man" makes countless thousands mad.

A Courier Journal correspondent is authority for the statement that a mare male in Ballard county dropped a colt last Tuesday. Don't believe a word of it, and can't be made to believe it. Miss News don't say a word about it and she ought to know.

"As the twig is bent, so the tree inclines." "Train up a child in the way he should go and when he gets old he will not depart from it." "Stories first heard at the mother's knee are never wholly forgotten," but some fellows will grow and wax strong in lying in spite of a parent's precept.

Bishop Ames, of the Methodist church, died in Baltimore on Friday last. He has faithfully served his church in the capacity of Bishop for the past twenty seven consecutive years, and has inherited the reputation of a liberal constructionist and able divine. His death is a blow to the cause of civilization and Christianity.

We are sorry to see that there is a strong effort being made to induce Capt. W. J. Stone, of Lyon, to become a candidate for the State Senate from the district composed of Trigg, Lyon, Livingston, and Callaway counties, in opposition to our good neighbor Judge J. H. Wilkinson, of Cadiz. Capt. Stone is regarded as a man of ability and formidable opponent.

When it becomes necessary to illustrate by comparison the immense income of any one, the daily paper happily remarks that the fellow actually controls as fat a take as its River Editor, though the delicate and refined d. p. avoids particulars, fails to explain that this liquid paragraph checks on its treasury nearly every Saturday evening for 1 cent and costs.

The Democratic party had just as well be looking around for timber with which to trail Grant and Sherman in 1880. They will be the Republican nominees as sure as the sun shines. It will be in the power of Thurman and Seymour to defeat that ticket, headed by the rash worshipper of bull pups and whiskey straight. Mark that down on the lining of your unwaivable winter vests.

After a Senator or Congressman comes about one fourth of a day in "curling" melodious nothingness, soaring to the heights of school boy oratory, at a cost of about five thousand dollars to the Government there comes a general rush to him and he is congratulated. This thing is becoming monotonous and the people are becoming sorely sick of it. We want fewer orators in our legislative halls and more men of business and statesmanship. The people pay for these long spurs, sentimental speeches and, we repeat, they are bored to death in consequence of it.

Secretary Sherman refused to sell the new refunding certificates to an association of bankers, and has signified his intention of holding them for the people. He calculates that they will all be taken in sixty days. Just what we expected of Sherman. The volume of currency in circulation among the people has already been contracted with a great loss to the people and now this bait is thrown out to catch all the extra money outside of the banks. What a knave or fool John Sherman is! For the Lord's sake let what little money there is in circulation remain in circulation and do not get it from the people to redeem our bonds held in Europe. We are oppressed sufficiently now by all conceivable adversities of wind and water, and to this rob us of our last dollar is an effectual settling up of our bankrupt States by this ass. The Republican party is responsible for John Sherman's acts.

The Republicans have all of a sudden become awkwardly silent on the question whether Hayes will or will not veto the Appropriation-Repeal bill, with its anti-soldier rider.

The Southern Indiana editorial association will meet in Evansville on Sept. 25th, instead of in June. The brethren of Kentucky are disappointed in that the contemplated mutual visit to the Mammoth Cave about the last of June will be interfered with by the recent change.

The Indianapolis Journal has canvassed all parts of the State, interviewed about a thousand exponents of Republicanism, and finds that for the Presidential nomination, in 1880, Grant is preferred by 75 per cent. of the Republicans of that State, Sherman by 15 per cent, while ten per cent. are divided between Conkling, Blaine, Garfield, Chandler and Harrison.

The emigration agents at the South, understanding the colored men's weakness for secret societies, have organized associations similar to the old black Union League and it is said have succeeded in obtaining a membership of 928,000 men, women and children. The colored brethren follow each other like sheep—when one goes they all follow, and these hired deceivers are well aware of this fact.

As long as there is sectional controversy, the South will remain undermost (New York Sun). Which is why the Republican leaders cry "Rebellion," "Brigadiers," &c. We think all can appreciate the truth of this and now ask the respectable Republicans of this county if they bear the same malice to the South? Do you endorse such men as now cry "rebellion at the south" for the purpose of keeping her undermost? Do you not think it unkind, ungenerous and cowardly?

In its issue of April 15th, the South KENTUCKIAN advanced the opinion pointedly that this negro "exodus" was simply a paid for job on the part of the Republican leaders, gotten up for an excuse to falsify the census returns in 1880, and from such a reduction of the South's population to reduce her representation in Congress, and at the same time increase the representation of Republican Kansas. The Courier-Journal has adopted our suggestion, and now asserts in a double headed, leading editorial in its issue of the 25th:

"This whole 'exodus' scheme is a piece of scandalous fiction. The ministers who are at the bottom of it know very well what they are about. They have for their object the falsification of the next census."

The expenses of the national government in 1870, under Buchanan's administration were about sixty million dollars. In 1875, under Hayes, one hundred and thirty one millions, exclusive of interest. The people are somewhat anxious to know why the Republicans cannot run the government as economically as other parties. Too many office holders, troops, supervisors of elections, visiting southern "statesmen," investigating committees, and log rollings, out of Treasury funds. It is now full time for a new party to gain the reins of government, as experience teaches that any political party will become corrupt after a series of government office-holding terms.

It is a matter of surprise that the people of Mississippi contribute to the support of that ingenious misrepresenter of Southern sentiment, the Okolona States. Every issue of that paper contains blood-bolting paragraphs, calculated to keep open the old sore of war issues and animosities. The management of the paper fully understands the delicate political relations now existing between the North and South, and it has adopted a deceitful and damnable course of policy to bring the paper into public notice. It pretends to represent Southern sentiment correctly, but falls short of the mark by cold blooded over-drawn pictures. There is a belief that the paper is paid to do this devilry for Republican politicians, but this is too charitable a construction to place on the ambitiously filthy falsifier of an unfortunate South. Let the people of Mississippi refuse to sustain the deceitful deserters and leave the Republican politicians to support it, in whose interests it is clearly conducted.

The mere fact that this present extra session of Congress has been prolonged for the purpose of repealing the unfair and infamous election laws, which permit supervisors and soldiers at the polls to intimidate peaceable citizens desirous of exercising the popular electoral franchise, is a conclusive ground for belief that the Democrats in 1880 will not insist on limiting the Republican precedent of 1876, which threatened the minority with the constitutional provision empowering Congress to name the President, and afterward, by way of compromise, established an electoral commission whose sanctity proved as corrupt as that of Southern Returning Boards. The Democrats do now, and will in 1880, control both branches of Congress. How easily and naturally could the Democracy imitate this Republican precedent of fraud. But such will not be done, and, we repeat, this bold stand to debar the soldiers from the polls is conclusive, in itself, that only fairness will be the watchword of '80. If defeat comes fairly its mantle will be accepted faithfully.

The Synod of the Presbyterian Church of England has resolved to appoint Rev. Dr. Patton, of Chicago, to the chair of Apologetic Theology in the Presbyterian College, London.

"WHAT SHALL WE DO TO BE SAVED?"

A Word to Farmers.

It requires no mathematical calculation to arrive at the ultimate results of the present system of farm cultivation prevalent in southern Kentucky. One has but to waver over the country to be convinced that the tendency of our management is to deterioration. The fact is alarmingly true. We find that most farmers are cultivating their fields every year in succession. We find that very little grass is being sown. Clover is acknowledged by all practical and experienced agriculturists to be the best fertilizer of all the plant foods. But a limited number of farmers are taking any advantage at all of its value, while a large portion of those who do are doing so only in a superficial way and on a limited scale. This is all a grand mistake. It will lead us into a "sterile plain." This neglect of land is of course based on some cause, and those who are sufficiently posted on the financial condition of our section can readily see that financial embarrassment has been brought about by failures in crops in this particular section and in depreciation of prices of the staple products of our soil. But this is not the only cause; labor is becoming more uncertain, yes, unreliable. The customary price of labor is among us unreasonably high. We are paying now nearly the same price for labor that we did five years ago; while the prices of our hogs, cattle and tobacco have depreciated on an average probably forty per cent. In the upper counties of this State, in the Mason and Pendleton districts labor is available at about the same figures as with us. The farmers of those sections raise nearly as many pounds of tobacco to the acre that we do and obtain 15 cents per pound for it while we realize 5 cents. The experience of that section has convinced thinking men that some other revenue besides tobacco must come in from the farm and generally stock raising is attended to. This proves a very valuable source of revenue, at the same time tests the land and after a series of years the soil is in good heart for a bountiful yield of extra quality. The lands are preserved in richness and every year adds value to them. Time is said to be man's worst enemy, it brings wrinkles to his brow, frost to his hair and scars to his heart. How completely can man be the master of time by a judicious handling of his soil. Time tells all things to nothingness, it is said, but in this case it practically adds virtues to the body of earth and serves to perpetuate the mother soil in its strength and productivity. There is no real filler of the soil that does not love its virtues. Those who glory in the freedom of country air find equal satisfaction in the possession of a fertile soil. Men love their homes, their farms. In fact nothing brings that same degree of confidence and content to the planter at the commencement of the year as to know that his soil is productive and it is quite as patent that the granary and barn be well filled, the results of his labor, brings sentimental satisfaction and practical relief to his home of loved ones. Then "what shall we do to be saved?" Shall we continue to grasp at large crops, cultivating our fields to their extreme capacities and weakening their vegetable properties? We have tested this for the last ten years, hoping that by pitching large crops money enough would be realized to ease certain individual financial embarrassments. It has proven futile. The bright dream has vanished year in and year out, as a quaking April cloud. These high hopes have been unrealized, and our soil has been damaged. There is no doubt but that financial embarrassment of individuals has been the sole cause of this policy. Look around over the country and see whether or not the rich men have fallen victims to this logic. The financially independent men of this section have unexceptionally protected their farms and see what a difference there now exists in their productiveness compared with the large majority of others. Those men with rationality and an extra year's ration had best commence at once to look to their interests in this protection of the soil. Let clover be sown, now, "better late than never," raise grass and stock in connection with the farm. Temper your extravagance last for "filthy lucre." Put in just what can be cultivated thoroughly. Produce a better grade of tobacco. Handle it more with painstaking and care, and thereby regain the drooping reputation of the world-famous "Clarks-ville and Hopkinsville tobacco." See that at the beginning of another year labor is engaged at least twenty-five or thirty per cent. cheaper than it is now employed at. Stick to your hands and every interest of your homes as diligently as the lawyer does to his office and his books, the merchant to his stock, the doctor to his drugs, the carpenter to his tools and be convinced by the happy results to follow that the life of the agriculturist is as profitable, as pleasant and as satisfactory with all its tameness as the fruits of any employment under God's canopy of Heaven. These suggestions are based on "Gospel truth." Unless some change comes in the management of our farm affairs this section will soon be behind the red hills of old Virginia, with her heart of gold bleeding and burning in the blistering sunlight. Washes, gullies and galls, dilapidated houses, faded paint and decaying churches greet us from every view there, and so will it be here in due course of time unless we soon learn "what we shall do to be saved."

Resumption a Success.

We have heretofore doubted the success of resumption. It has been generally believed by "Doubting Thomases" that the seeming success of it was due to some unknown stimulant; that it was based not on its real merits, and that it would gracefully fall through before its final consummation was realized. The figures are against us. We have judged wrongly, and in all frankness it is well that every one should be duly advised of its happy results. John Sherman has operated the last successfully. There can be no doubt of it. The figures show that about five hundred millions of government bonds bearing five per cent. interest have been redeemed from the proceeds of the sale of an equal amount of bonds bearing 4 per cent. interest. This will be a clear yearly saving to the government of five millions of dollars in interest. This sum is not to be sneezed at, although the amount is a mere drop in the bucket of a government that expends annually one hundred and thirty millions to sustain itself. Small savings like this are good for a beginning, and when the plan of resumption shall have been completely consummated there will be in all something like thirteen millions of dollars saved to the government annually. Good for the Republican party, though it is perfectly right that the one that contracted the debt should devise a means to liquidate it. Good for John Sherman, although the plan was furnished him by the combined wisdom of his party. He deserves praise for executive ability and the probability is that it will give him the second place on the Republican Presidential ticket. Resumption is a success and candor compels the confession.

Antiquity of Fruits.

An apple was the medium through which the tempter caused the fall of Adam, and an olive branch was brought by the dove to Noah in the ark, thus showing that these fruits have existed ever since the creation. The grape is, no doubt, of equal antiquity, for we read in Holy Scripture, which is the oldest historical record, that soon after the deluge Noah planted a vineyard and drank of the wine thereof. Hence the cultivation of the grape has existed from time immemorial among all nations, kindreds and tongues, in all those climates where the vine can be successfully grown, and the fruit has been used to eat either as ripe grapes or as raisins, or of juice has been manufactured into wine.

USE HOMESTEAD Tobacco Grower.

BECAUSE BECAUSE BECAUSE. It largely increases the quantity, besides improves the quality of the crop. Intelligent, practical farmers have tried it for three years, and say that it is admirably adapted to our soil and climate.

BECAUSE. The farmers are proving their faith by their works. Three years ago we sold 10 barrels, the next year we sold 100 barrels, last year we sold 1,000 barrels, this year, up to this time, we have sold 1,200 barrels, and still our best farmers are buying it.

IMITATIONS. Are fooling the country branded "Tobacco Grower," all claiming to be as good as the Homestead. Some of them are worthless—some good. But don't be persuaded to buy any but the Genuine Homestead Tobacco Grower.

What the Farmers Say!

J. K. GANT, Hopkinsville, Ky.—I have used Homestead Tobacco Grower. Have doubled my crop on poor land. I recommend it with pleasure as a means of greatly improving the quality besides increasing the quantity.

S. G. BERNARD, Hopkinsville, Ky.—I was induced by Mr. Metcalfe last year to try the Homestead Tobacco Grower. I like it so well that I shall use it on all my this lands this year. It is reliable. Farmers, use it; it will pay you.

M. V. OWEN, Tobacco Inspector, Hopkinsville, Ky.—The Homestead is all right. I tried it, and recommend it to those wishing to raise a good rich Clarksville leaf.

GEORGE SHAW, Fairview, Ky.—I have been using fertilizers of various kinds for several years. For two years past have been using the Homestead. I regard it as the most reliable fertilizer ever introduced into our country. I shall use it again.

OMAR S. BROWN and JOSEPH CLARK, Crofton, Ky.—We have used the Homestead Tobacco Grower. We have never seen anything like it, and say with pleasure that it paid us to use it and we recommend it to everybody who raises tobacco.

GEORGE LEWIS, Hopkinsville, Ky.—On my poorest land I doubled my crop. J. H. GAINES, Montgomery, Ky.—It is the best thing I have ever used on plant beds.

JOHN FUZZ, Casky, Ky.—I have used it for two years. It paid me. I like it so well as to use it again.

CART D. HORTON, Pembroke, Ky.—It is the very thing for my land, producing more and better tobacco with it than without it.

W. H. GIBBS, Ringgold, Montgomery county, Tenn.—I used the Homestead Tobacco on my Wheat and Tobacco crops. I used the Homestead Tobacco on my Wheat and Tobacco crops. I used the Homestead Tobacco on my Wheat and Tobacco crops. I used the Homestead Tobacco on my Wheat and Tobacco crops.

J. S. WILLIAMS, Robertson county, Tenn.—I used last season Homestead Tobacco Grower, Cleveland and Chicago brands. They all gave good results, but I like the Homestead a great deal the best, and I regard it as a permanent Fertilizer.

P. T. BOUTWELL, Dayville, Todd Co., Ky.—I used one ton of Homestead Tobacco Grower last year, using a teaspoonful to the hill. Result: 4 better, 4 more. It is the best Fertilizer known to me—better than stable manure. We could give you one hundred certificates as good as the above, but we think the above will answer for the present.

C. M. MEACHAM, Editor.

HOPKINSVILLE, APR. 19, 1879.

We take pleasure in stating that we have associated with us Mr. C. M. MEACHAM, in the capacity of assistant local editor. He is a young lawyer of promise and will doubtless be of invaluable service to the South Kentuckian. We are determined to get up a valuable family paper and hope that our efforts will be appreciated.

Amusements.

The Golden Dramatic Company filled an engagement at Mozart Hall last night and will to-night render the play entitled "A Celebrated Case." We went to press too early to comment on the rendition of "Divorce" last night. The troupe comes to us well recommended by the press, and no doubt it is a first-class combination. The play selected for to-night is one of great interest, and we advise all to go. It will be sometime before we will have an opportunity to hear of Golden Belle ring again. Tickets for sale at Garrett & Starling's at 50 and 75 cents.

So far as we can learn the entertainment given by the New Orleans Minstrels, at Mozart Hall last Thursday night gave universal satisfaction.

It is seldom that a show of this kind comes up to the expectations of the people, but the most fastidious were highly pleased, and perfectly satisfied. The want of space will not permit us to give anything like a full report of the exhibition, suffice it to say that it was without doubt, the best minstrel troupe that ever exhibited in this city.

Many of the side splitting jokes and witticisms were heard for the first time by our people, and the athletic performance by the Miller Brothers has never been equaled in this city, even in first class circles. We say this much in justice to the company, and cordially recommend them wherever they go, as a first-class troupe.

Several new advertisements appear in this issue, which come in too late to be noticed in our local columns.

HERE AND THERE.

Quarterly Court began yesterday.

We learn that a large barn on the farm of Mrs. Major, near town, has recently been raised by the wind.

A freight train was wrecked yesterday morning three miles north of town, and the north-bound mail delayed some time.

The subterranean pipe, connecting the Elevator with the Planing Mill, passing down Railroad Street, has been taken up for repairs.

Many of our citizens are greatly and materially improving and beautifying their homes by putting up nice fences, planting shrubbery, etc.

Mr. F. Schmitzer, late of Evansville, has located here and opened a cigar store on the corner of Nashville and Railroad streets. He manufactures his own cigars, and will no doubt do a lucrative business.

A party of several gentlemen left here last Friday for Red river on a fishing expedition. They will remain several days and will doubtless return with enough "brain food" to supply the town for some time to come.

We hear some complaint of the ravages of the tobacco fly, from the farmers; but it is our opinion that owing to the severe winter they will not appear in sufficient numbers to affect the crop.

Reports from all parts of the county represent the wheat crop as being the best we have had for several years. This news is truly gratifying, and the proceeds of the great cereal ought to knock hard times "higher than a kite."

We would like to have good correspondents, who will write newsy letters, from every section of the county, and also from Trenton, Cerulean Springs, or other places of importance in adjacent counties.

A shooting match was held at Mr. G. V. Green's, near the city, last Friday. The score, we believe, was about as usual. The gentlemen were pleased under many obligations to Mr. Green for his hospitality.

The L. & N. Railroad offer reduced rates to delegates going to the Democratic State Convention, at Louisville, May 1st. The fare will be lower than is usually granted excursions. The tickets will be on sale April 30, and will be good returning May 2nd.

We have just supplied ourselves with a new umbrella, and will take great pleasure in lending it to any and all persons desiring to borrow. It will not make a particle of difference if they should break or lose it, or forget to return it, as there are plenty more where we got it.

We told you so! Sure enough that Main Street wedding has come off. On the 22nd inst. Mr. G. W. Cayce led to the marriage altar Miss Faye Guyton, of this city. After the wedding the happy couple immediately repaired to the residence of the groom's home south of town. May they live to a good old age and be supremely happy.

Attention is called to the special inducements, in another column, we offer to new cash subscribers. Every cash subscriber enrolled between the 1st of April and the first of June will hold a ticket in the grand distribution of valuable prizes in October, and, besides, get more than the worth of his money in the news and reading matter contained in the KENTUCKIAN.

The Hopkinsville Spelling Club held quite a pleasant meeting at Mr. G. V. Campbell's Friday night. The respective sides were represented by H. A. Phelps and G. N. Campbell. The spelling lasted one hour and finally resulted in favor of Phelps' side by a score of 24 to 25. Out of consideration for several warehouse clerks we will not publish the individual score. The present officers of the club are C. M. Meacham, Superintendent; H. H. Abernathy, Enunciator; Miss Mamie Campbell, Recorder. The next meeting will be held at the residence of Mr. Flack, next Friday night.

We have frequently made the statement that Bellevue was one of the most important little towns in the county, and we believe some have been disposed to doubt it. Bellevue is the place of our nativity, and we trust the public will pardon our vanity when we say that we are proud of her and proud of the record she made last week. On the same day, and within a radius of half a mile, three pairs of twins were added to her population. It might be in order to state that there were twenty births there during the year '78—including two pairs of twins by the same mother, and since the beginning of the present year there have already been eight births.

We have frequently urged our people to patronize home industries and enterprises. We desire to call special attention to the following facts. Mr. S. H. Turner, on Main Street, next door to Howe's Jewelry Store, has perfected arrangements with several large publishing houses and general wholesale music dealers and is prepared to sell all of the latest sheet music at publisher's prices. If the people will unite in giving him their orders he assures us that he will order a handsome stock and keep on hand a full selection to select from. Now let all unite in patronizing him and at an early day he may be induced to establish a music department to his business which will be a source of great convenience to lovers of sweet strains and harmonious melodies.

On the Wing.

The Bethel Sunday School Convention, to which we alluded in our last, met at Trenton last Saturday and Sunday, 26th and 27th inst. A considerable delegation headed by Prof. Rust went up from this place on the 5 o'clock train, but the "big four" consisted of Lige Sebree, Gran. Garth, John Twyman and the writer did not go until the evening train. We arrived in Trenton a few minutes after 4 P. M. and found the crowd at the church just dispersing. Though almost total strangers several of the hospitable citizens insisted upon taking charge of us for the night, but we were constrained to accept the hospitality of the chairman of our delegation, Lige Sebree, so we repaired with him to the house of his father, in the suburbs, where we were entertained in royal style. No sooner had the evening shades begun to appear than Sebree and Twyman conceived the design of going "courting," and of course we had to go along to take care of them. Right here we will tell the curtain drop upon the drama till the next morning.

Though the prospect for rain was very favorable we went to town and found a large crowd at the church. A delegation of "small boys" from Hopkinsville came on the train, but for some unknown cause returned before dinner. After some preliminary exercises in the S. B. etc., Dr. Keen preached an able sermon, after which dinner was announced in the basement of the church. We found the table well supplied with good things, and our "four" did the subject justice.

The evening session consisted of speeches on different subjects, pertaining to the S. B. work, and was concluded about 4 o'clock.

Then came the interesting task of waiting till after midnight for the home train. Then it was that Dr. Twyman, one of our "four," deserted his colors and went to sit up with a "patient" till train time. At that time he failed to appear and we were compelled to leave him behind. No doubt the "case" was an extraordinary one. Sebree and Garth had gone fishing and they also were left. The writer alone returned. He boarded the train and requesting the clever and polite conductor to awake him at Hopkinsville, knew no more till home was reached. So we are back. We are really uneasy about Twyman, but maybe he will come up all right. We hope so at any rate. He is a good fellow, and possessed more life and Annie-mation than any other in our crowd. We can only wait with anxiety his arrival, hoping that he will be well with him. If Sebree will "fork over" a mess of fish we will not tell what "court" he attended Sunday.

REVERLY.

Beverly presents a more striking appearance than it has in several years.

Messrs. Huggins & Co. have succeeded Cayce & Sons in the mercantile business. They have an elegant stock of goods. Their busy little clerk does all in his power to secure the patronage of the ladies.

Yesterday was the regular preaching day. A very large crowd was in attendance. Some were there for the first time in eight years. Glad to say that their efforts were fully rewarded by a beautiful and eloquent sermon from Bro. Cayce.

We were glad to see Mr. Lee Cayce among the pleasant faces at church yesterday. He has been quite sick for two or three weeks. Also Mr. George Knight and his fair young bride from near Pease Des.

Miss Fannie Turner, of Montgomery county, is on a visit to the family of Mr. J. Turner.

Miss Deola Turner returned last week from a visit to friends near Adam's Station.

Several young men from your city were in our midst yesterday.

A number of young people of this neighborhood paid a visit to the Pilot Boat one day of last week. It was an occasion long to be remembered with infinite pleasure by the young folks.

Miss Fannie May Fox is visiting the neighborhood this week.

Johnnie Cayce, who has long been confined to his bed, was out riding several evenings of last week.

In Memoriam.

Died, very suddenly, in New York city, on the evening of Friday, April 25th, 1879, William Alexander, second son of Mrs. Jane and the late Zachariah Glass, of Hopkinsville, Ky.

How are we daily reminded that we are mortal! and not only to but a domestic. The law of the universe is all at its joys, its cares, its toils, its ambitions, its emulations, may be sent at any moment, and to be obeyed instantly, and without an instant's reprieve. "The master calleth for thee," is the all-sufficient reason. Hence, are sent with a rush, stand by the shock, and warned by the bereavement. Great indeed is the loss of one like the friend of our youth, snatched from a devoted mother as in the twinkling of an eye—from family and friends. Grief is the lot when death robs us of such an exemplary son, kind brother, true, generous and disinterested friend as the deceased ever proved himself. To dwell under the same roof with him was a pleasure; for never was he heard to speak a cruel, unkind or displeasing word to any one, not even to a domestic. Cheerful in disposition, genial and accessible; of a most affectionate heart, and ever grateful for the smallest favor; always pleased to extend kindnesses to others, even at a cost of time, trouble, or expense, and appreciative of even most trifling attentions. Truly, "The law of kindness was on his lips." Faithful in engagements, honorable and reliable in business transactions, true in his friendships, temperate in his habits, his name will long be cherished and held in affectionate remembrance by a large circle of devoted friends, both old and young.

TOBACCO NEWS.

Prices were about the same as for several weeks past, with probably a little more disposition on the part of buyers to make purchases. Messrs. Bonaman & Kirkpatrick were in the market arranging for future operations, and but for the long dry spell of weather, which prevents the handling of Tobacco, the short crop would soon change hands. Rumors of bugs and of plants disappearing on account of dry cold spells are exciting to some extent.

TRENTON.

Thinking that some of our readers might be interested in what is going on in our pleasant little village of Trenton, I will endeavor to give you a brief synopsis of our local news.

There is not much to be told about Trenton, but it is one of the liveliest little towns in the State, and like the blue grass region, is noted for its pretty girls. I heard a visitor remark the other day that the majority of the Trenton girls were pretty. Of course every town has its share of homeliness. And I think the majority of the Trenton boys are handsome, too. Trenton also has its share of intelligence. We have two very fine schools, Trenton Academy, conducted by Prof. P. A. Pointer, and Trenton High School, presided over by Dr. J. S. Stapp. Both are well attended, and conduct the best of modern educational systems.

Our Town Hall, over the Academy building is the pride of Trenton. It has just been built and furnished, and is capable of seating comfortably, three hundred. We have already had several theatrical troups, and are desirous of being entertained by every first-class troupe that passes through. They have hitherto passed us by, not being aware of our hall accommodations. There is some talk of Bluff Tom visiting us soon. There will be fun enough for this week; Cecelia Crisp is with us, and intends to spend the week. She will appear to-night in the celebrated drama of "Fanchon, the Merry Croquet." Boys, bring out your girls.

The Baptists held their Sunday School Convention here yesterday, and Sunday. It was well attended, although the weather was very disagreeable. There were many visitors from Hopkinsville, Hendersonville, Altonville, Russellville, and other neighboring towns. Our handsome young friend, Dr. Twyman, came down Saturday, expecting to go back Sunday night, but was detained till late for the 12 o'clock train Sunday night, consequently had to stay over till Monday morning. Very important business detained him. Miss Lander was also one of the important visitors from Hopkinsville.

Our lively young friend, Jim Cabanis, and his sister, Miss Jennie, were among the arrivals. There were many others too numerous to mention. All enjoyed the convention, especially John and his tall friend, about the time the cock crew Saturday night. The young ladies, usually such early risers, were very hard to get down to breakfast next morning. The young folks expect to spend next Wednesday on Pilot Rock. I'll tell you how we like it in my next.

Prof. Pointer's school is going to have a picnic near Wood's Mill next Friday. Apply to Cross Wood for particulars. All are invited to come and bring dinner. As my space is limited I'll "wait a week."

Resolution of Thanks.

Green River Lodge, No 54 I. O. O. F., having been given a most agreeable surprise last Saturday Evening on the occasion of their Anniversary Celebration by the wives and daughters of the members of the Order, and feeling profoundly grateful for the bountiful repast spread for them on that occasion. It was therefore unanimously

Resolved, that the sincere thanks of the members of this lodge be, and are hereby tendered to the ladies who, without our knowledge or solicitation, prepared and served the magnificent feast which we have enjoyed to night. The members of this order who have been taught to minister to the wants of their fellowmen feel that they have been eclipsed by the grateful and generous ministrations of the fair women who have made this, the 60th Anniversary, memorable by a collation which was as sumptuous and elegant as it was unexpected.

Obituary.

Death has once more invaded our neighborhood and laid heavy and grievous afflictions upon Mr. and Mrs. James W. McGhee, by depriving them of the only son of the late Carl Carson, aged 8 months and 11 days, who died on Sunday, April 20th, 1879, after a very painful illness. Though little Carl lies in the cold and narrow vault of a silent grave, and his innocent and musical laugh is silenced and hushed forever, yet one so young and pure has only been added to the thronged host of Heaven, there to await the coming of father and mother. Christ has said, "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven." God doth not deprive of man; though he causes grief, yet will he have compassion according to the multitude of his tender mercies. To the parents we offer our heartfelt sympathy and condolences in their sad bereavement, and in the belief that they will meet him "on the beautiful shore," and dwell with the angels above.
